SILENCE II

MY MIND BECOMES SILENT
AS MY MOUTH MOVES
NO NEED TO REPEAT WORDS
MY WORDS ARE MUTE.
AS A BODY IS IN MOTION
MY WORDS ARE FROZEN
SILENCE BECOMES MOVEMENT
STILL, IS THE POSITION.
NOW THE MOVEMENT IN MY MIND
BECOMES SILENCE IN MY EYES
THE SPECTRUM OF LIGHT AND COLOUR FADES
EVERYTHING, NOW TURNS TO GREY.
AND IN THE GREYNESS
ALL MOVEMENT IS GRACELESS
ALL BECOMES DARKNESS
LIFE IS SILENCED.

WHEN THEY HAVE DIED AND WILTED
IT'S THEIR TRUE BEAUTY THAT REMAINS.

BEST EVERYTHINGS EVERYWHERE.
 I have nothing to write about, all my thoughts are assignments, my truest sensation is the tickle i get up my back every time i urinate. still, there are things i dig even groovier than that...

BEST TUNE MISTERS: Santana's "Stormy"-heart warming guitar splashes and aggro voice that knocks the balls of Judas Priest...there is power in depression/who's "Amazing Journey" from Tommy-i'm sorry, neither Three O'clock nor the Strawberry Alarm Clock send the pictures reeling through my grey matter but this stuff is PSYCHOACTIVE PURITANICALLY AND PERSONIFIED, superfab and fantabulous? yup/Crosby Stills and Nash "Marakesh Express" mainly because i'm morrocan and they're doped up rockstars and full of soulful kicks/Them's "Here Comes the Night"-oh man this is just the best song, Van Morrison's wail, twanging guitar slides, perfect. pi up on these cats, they've got the now sound only fifteen years ago/Van Morrison's "Brown Eyed Girl" mainly because i'm not irish and somewhere in here they must mention a cave and rain and neither rhyme/Sweet's "Love is like Oxygen" which is really and truly the worst song ever, just fucking awful in every way/Velvet Underground's "All Tomorrow's Parties" because there is a cowbell in the backgro d for like six minutes and it just cuts hard into your brain and makes you want to eat the record needle/...isthatenyet? well if not c'est la vie, i would've put the Beatles in there they inevitable are dead or hairy...

BEST DRUGS: oh shit, this is dedicated to all loose in the head: LSD is still the killest craziest equinoxinal flip out freak out zip roar and panic flutter anywhere, everything next to it seems kind of like glorified aspirin/psilocybin mushrooms-just like el only smeeellllly and tawting like dogshit and etcetera/pall mall cigarettes-they taste like what they sound like-PALLLLLLL MALLLLL, yuk/orange pico and pico tea and coffee-beauties, whites, lidproppers, they're all wimpville next to this columbian stuff, this stuff will keep you tap dancing through all tomorrow's parties/and the rest: kahlua, manhattans, martinis, novacane.

BEST WRITERS: swing mit shakespeare's wild prose, don't hate him because you have to study him, don't give the adult world what they wnt, dig him for he can shpiel the words/jack kerouac, as good as willie shake and even lighter, ram that road/jean paul sartre-learn why this earth is, why you are, and how it all pieces together, tuff stuff, impress your pals with this/gregory corso-angry young poet nasty as pilf but unghhhh he kicks tush, a poet that kicks bunbone, i dig/tom wolf for his goofed up cranked out chinsy novels on 60's pop culture, he wears white suits and and and.../lawrence ferlinghetti-never mind that his last name sounds like a kind of noodle i mean the man is a poet and writes about everything from fidel castro to fucking tree bark, a poet and a visionary/anais nin-to be morali tic and sweet about it, she pops my rod with those tales of tails and fins and the joining of the two/

BEST CLOTHING ITEMS: berets-because they double as purses and portapotties/those curvy shoes, the ones with curls at the end-damn exotic, bbabyee/cumberbunstheir name is odd, their shape is odd, wail/nehru-i wanna look like gandhi too i mean the man was class prsonified, dot on forehead and all/oh hell i don't like fashion or non fashion or clothing experimentation anyways...

BEST TRENDS: i subscribe, prescribe, buckle down to all trends...here goes:
 ROCKABILLY 'cos baby dig the beboppin' greased up messed up bass pluckin sounds like dads/MOD cowsssezzzzzz those ties man and that youthgo angstoroomi and all the rickenbacker guitars and cute girls gogogogogog/PSYCHEDELIC baby because it's just a groovy scene and a supersonic hyptofreakout presence y'know/PLUNK i mean KINK i mean QUACK i mean goodnight....

MAKE IT RIGHT

"In a short time... several million peasants will rise like a mighty storm, like a hurricane, a force so swift and violent that no power, however great, will be able to hold it back. They will smash all the trammels that bind them and rush forward along the road to liberation. They will sweep all the imperialists, warlords, corrupt officials, local tyrants and evil gentry into their graves. Every revolutionary party and every revolutionary comrade will be put to the test, to be accepted or rejected as they decide. There are three alternatives. To march at their head and lead them? To trail behind them, gesticulating and criticizing? Or to stand in their way and oppose them? Every person is free to choose, but events will force you to make the choice quickly."

Mao Tsetung: 1927.

Once upon a Death
Was born a life
Sprung from great heights,
A burning Rome with
No means of repair,
It ushered wisdom to power
With the sweet fruits of wine
Until its cup was filled
With the poison of Socrates.
No one could understand its beauty
Or its flavor.
It was thus combined
With mortal ambrosia,
Though such a thing does not exist.

Death is a poet
Perhaps you have heard of its masterpiece,
Life,
I have not read a
Poem of such beauty
Or have seen a
Poem altered so man a time
A word such as eternity
Fade from mind,
Progress has come to mean
Deterioration
And the one link to all societies
Draw towards material value.
A starving man's diet of bare necessity remains
And yet a great tomb is built
To commemorate a tyrannic, Stalinlike mind
And one built to honor
A single man's Deranged destiny,
the subtle stature
Of Napoleon,
Or a German madman
When could not die his fate.
I would perish
For this poem's simple understanding.
First, However,
I must learn
To grasp its beginning.

JAMAICAN
MUSIC

FESTIVAL

For Thanksgiving vacation, I went with my mom to Jamaica to see this festival. It was the first how at the new Bob Marley Performing center (which is a huge stage with a chain link fence around it. There are a few food stands- that's about it). There were many groups from very musical field. The festival thus proceeded:

First Night: There was a dedication to Bob Marley, before the music began. Rita (Marley's wife) did the honors and the Prime Minister of Jamaica made the most boring speech I've ever heard. The Wailers started off. Rita is in this group. The B-52s (who, by the way, are very funny-looking) played, plus some others whom I can't remember. The Grateful Dead came on last. They did their show at 4 AM, and I fell asleep. All the "deadheads" enjoyed themselves. They were the ones with the psychedelic t-shirts. This one guy wore an American flag shirt which I thought was cool.

Second Night: This night was better. The English Beat kicked it off and got everyone dancing- even the deadheads; they were hilarious skanking about. Stacy Attisaw, Aretha Franklin, and Ladys Knight and the Pips, all put on perfect Las Vegas shows with lots of "I love you all"s thrown in to prove that they "would not be here if it weren't for all of you". Anyway, Black Uhuru, the best reggae band, gave a good jam and everyone loved them, including me. The best song they performed was "Darkness". Yellowman was last. I had never heard him before but he was great. An albino rastafarian! He basically rapped, about how great he was in bed. He was pretty funny.

Last Night: This was the best! A dumb band came on first, and then Joe Jackson sang some songs. Squeeze then performed their last show ever (they are breaking up) and it wasn't too good. What a disappointment. Rita Marley sang a few tunes. She had a good one called "One Draw", which is also the title of her last album. She is supposed to be the "Queen of Reggae" but I didn't enjoy her too much. The Clash came on, and I enjoyed them. They played more of their reggae songs. All the deadheads liked "Rock the Casbah", and "Should I Stay..." As before, they skanked about. Peter Tosh was the final performer. I had never heard him before either. He was good, but not great. He gave a mini-sermon about Jan love in between his songs. This got a little repetitious, but it seemed that some of the deadheads who were on the fourth hit of acid were converted. Anyway, Tosh ended it all.

All in all, it was a good three days. I observed a variety of different people, both off and on the stage. There was plenty of ganga going around. The Jamaicans didn't seem to like any of the American or English artists, except for the Clash, and the disco, oh- excuse me, I mean funk people. The Clash stayed at my hotel (sorry- no interview) as well as Rick James, Joe Jackson (a real loner), Squeeze, and The Beat. My mom re-acquainted herself with the road manager of the Grateful Dead, whom she had gone out with 20 years ago. I saw a guy wearing a Germs t-shirt. He was fat and balding.

KENDRA SMITH

THE BARN- UNIV. OF CA..at RIVERSIDE

Yes, I know this review is a little tardy and I apologize for the inconvenience.

The Barn is a well kept hole-in-the-wall. Bands are fairly easily discerned. I was really excited at the prospect of seeing the Dream Syndicate. I went to the early show and was lulled by the strains of the opening song "When You Smile". The band appeared comfortable and pleasant. Steve Wynn smiled with graciousness, but could the smile have been selfish also? They played their songs well but the whole set couldn't have exceeded thirty minutes.

This short length could have been easily interpreted as another case of a band that performed their perfunctory duty in order to collect the audience's money. In dry Riverside, any band that is somewhat mediocre is lauded and embraced for lack of culture out here. Appreciation was great that night. Here's hoping that this band wasn't expediently looking for an easy way out. Yes, this band is talented. Yes, this band deserves praise. Yes, this Riverside area is gullible- but pretentious cheating won't do any of us any good.

The opening band, Green on Red, displayed a good deal of energy and vigor. This band possesses potential. A more effective, refined manner in harnessing this may prove fruitful. Sorry for all that technical mishap.

Is It Really Better to Be Beautiful?

One of the most appealing traits of X is their good memory. Although they are accepted by pre-teenage soshes, X still remembers the early, dedicated fans. Last year, they put on unannounced shows for those in the "underground" at the Whisky. X could have easily gathered some funds to feather the nest instead of performing at this free concert on the lawn of this Cal State. 5 to 10 times the expected number of people made their presence. After a playful sound check, X gave a lengthy, rousing show. All the favorites were showcased and a couple of new ones were unveiled. The bouncers were disgraceful, some of the audience were tactless (mostly males), and the heat of the California sun was not enjoyed. What else is new? I suppose it was worth it.

-Silent Running

This is a note to all of you who don't outright despise heavy-metalish rock. About a year ago I got Grand Funk Railroad in PeeBah's bargain bin for my brother. We both liked the record a lot, but lost it. It had Blues influences including a possible harmonic on some cuts. The bass player really stands out. He puts the word Funk in the bands name. This christmas my dad got me a live album by GFR and I got my brother another GFR record (both done later). These albums were both boring and fit well into the rock/heavy metal stereotype. Recently I found two 2-record sets (each 50¢ at PeeBah's) from 69-71. One was live, the other a greatest hits, and I discovered that GFR reached their peak in originality with Grand Funk Railroad (1969). Anyone who can appreciate early seventies, bluesy, bass dominated music and doesn't mind a few trite guitar solos and sex-and-drug-rock-and-roll lyrics might keep his or her eyes out for this record when going through bargain bins.

Concert Review of The Bangles at The University of California Riversides
The Barn. By T. Robinson
March 5, 1983 Cost; $5

At first when you hear of the Bangles you think of the Go-Go's, and the 60's pop groups and their music, but there is more to the Bangles than meets the eye. Although UCR's The Barn seems like an unlikely place for a high energy group to be at (and it isn't), I found myself enjoying the show. The Barn is not a club scene, folks, but I will give them credit for trying. The opening band, Paperdoll, was tacky new wave. The lead singer looked like she was in the wrong place (namely a disco), but their Motels-type music was nice if you like that kind of a sound. Fortunately the Bangles saved the evening from disaster. The Bangles lead guitarist Vicki Peterson's on stage frankness, Debbie Peterson's energetic drumming, Susanna Hoff's bouncy style of performance, and Annette Zilinskas with her disarrayed bleached hair and bare feet combined with the girlish charm that only an all female band has, took me back to the crazy antics of the Beatles. At the show was Bill Bartell (Pat Smear) and other members of Riversides "White Flag", who enjoyed hawking it up with the girls both during and between sets. The Bangles EP is no comparison to their performance live. These girls are more thrashy than the controlled sound on the record. I feel this band is a must for all people to see before they get too popular.

The Flipside Video has come out. It includes; Social Distortion, Vandals, Sin 34, Black Flag, RF7, D.I., T.S.O.L., Descendents, M.O.C., Circle Jerks, Husker Du, Youth Brigade, and Black Faag. The video is a little bit long and some sections are boring, but on the whole it's good so if you get a chance to see it do, but don't be the first to pay $20.00 for it.

I've got a red pair of high-heels on Tumble me over, tumble me, push.
In my red high heels I've no control
The rituals of repression are so old,
You can do what you like, there'll be no reprisal,
I'm yours, yes I'm yours, it's my means of survival.
I've studied my flaws in your reflection
And put them to rights with savage correction,
So come on darling, make me yours,
Thp me over, show me the floor,
lease me, lease me, make me stay
In my red high-heels I can't get away.
These wounds leave furrows as they heal,
I've travelled them, they're red and real,
I've bound my twisted falling fall

AND WE SPED UP THE HILL
FROM THE VALLEY BELOW.
NIGHT BIRDS SHRIEKED
WHEN WE FLEW TO THE CREST
TO DO THE DEED NOW
IN THE SONG OF THE WEST.....

ALL AT ONCE THE WORLD STOOD STILL,
AND WE BRACED OURSELVES
FOR THE FINAL KILL.
I NEVER SEEM TO GET MY FILL;
I NEVER HAVE AND I NEVER WILL.....

WE VICTIMS OF LOVE
ARE ENFORCERS OF NEED.
WE'RE LEFT WITH DEVICES
TO FINISH THE DEED.
WHEN DUST TO DUST
AND ASHES COLLIDE,
THEY'LL MAKE US EAT CROW
AND LEAVE THE BODIES OUTSIDE....

I NEVER KNEW MY ENEMY'S NAME,
CUZ IN THE DARK THEY ALL LOOK THE SAME.
SO COME ON BABY, LET THE GOOD TIMES ROLL.
COME ON BABY,
GIMME THAT PRECIOUS LITTLE SOUL.

BLACK RUBBER

I FELL FOR THE SWEET DISEASE THAT RAGED IN MY MIND.
AND I'M STILL SEARCHING FOR A SIGN
OF MY OWN KIND.
BUT EVERYONE HAS CLEANED UP THE SCORE:
NOTHING IS OBSCENE ANYMORE.
SO RUB THAT BLACK RUBBER ON ME.
PUT ON YOUR LEATHER BOOTS,
DON YOUR LEATHER HOOD, AND DO NOT LET ME UP UNTIL
I'M FEELING REALLY GOOD.
I WAIT FOR VINDICATION,
WORTHY OF SYNDICATION,
SO RUB THAT BLACK RUBBER ON ME.

AH, DUNGEONS OF DECADENCE AND SWEET MISERY,
REPLACED BY BORING TALK
OF CHEAP MORALITY.
I WANT A LIAISON OF PASSION AND FIRE;
A SICK, DEMANDING LOVE ENTIRE.....

RUB IT AGAINST ME;
PULL MY HAIR, GRAB MY WRIST.
SLAM ME UP AGAINST A WALL,
GIVE MY ARM A TWIST.
POSSESS ME TOTALLY;
LET'S SEE WHAT YOU CAN DO,
AND I'LL RUB BLACK RUBBER ON YOU.

AH, SICK SOPHISTICATION,
ARROGANT AND SURE.
I WANT ALL THE EXCRUCIATION
I CAN ENDURE.
NOWADAYS THE PEOPLE ARE SO
PASSIVE AND PURE,
THEY KNOW THE SICKNESS,
BUT NOT THE CURE....

YOUR THIGHS ENCASED
IN A GLEAMING, STEAMING HEAT.
WE WRESTLE FIERCELY OUT THE DOOR,
INTO THE STREET.
I LOVE YOU MADLY,
AND I WOULD DIE FOR YOU GLADLY.
JUST RUB THAT BLACK RUBBER ON ME.

QUESTIONS

What's so weird?

Ronnie

I think we are unique because we do no copies, they're all originals. We've got a lot of them and there is a certain sound to us.

What style?

Ronnie

Why are you in a band?

Jack

This transaction was conducted May 1983.

Interviewer: Silent Running

Interviewees: Jack, Ronnie

Heavy rhythm, good instruments.
All our songs are a little different from any other one.
The reason we play in band is fun. We like fun and we like to see other people have fun. I hate all these fucking bands that try to be so serious about everything.

I see "punk rock" as a type of music.
We don't dress up. Maybe we'll do it once in a while just to have fun. We try to be real people and play music.
We don't go around beating people up.
We are dedicated about our music.
We would rather stay and play and get something accomplished than "take our girlfriends to the beach" as the old cliché goes.

What causes do you support?

Ronnie

Ronnie

Anything bothering you?

Ronnie

Any philosophies?

Ronnie

I'm so tired of all that trash-all these problems.
So many problems can be avoided. People who get upset over nothing make big problems out of little problems.
Life should be taken more lightly. It's not a bowl of cherries, it's your choice- it can be if you want it to be.
If this band doesn't make it, I'm not going to sit around and cry and say, "Ah, we ruined our life when we were teenagers." I'm going to carry on with my life.
People who classify themselves are really degrading themselves. They don't know what they are and they don't admire themselves. Everyone should like themselves to an extent.
You can improve yourself.
There are some punk rockers who try to dress punk rock and who totally believe in it. Some people really do enjoy it. But then some people do it to fit in the little bubble. I can't go around saying who's doing it for the right reasons or not. I don't go around judging people the way they are. I know so many cool people who have long hair.
Some punks think that they're better than other punks because they've talked to Sid Vicious and watched the "Decline".

Who cares! If you're going to build an image on who knows more, it's stupid. Everyone has their own strengths and weaknesses. Your knowledge of one subject means nothing to me.
A person is good if he believes in himself and thinks he's good. I respect a person who is himself.
Beauty is only skin deep. Looks catch attention only for a while.
In Newport Beach every person is in a bubble. They just love themselves. They think they're so cool but they don't respect anyone else.
Keeping a band together is so hard. There are four different people and there are always decisions to make. Most asshole people talk only to others who catch their eyes. If everyone looked the same, how are these people going to determine their "friends"? Remember, if you didn't have clothes, your hair, or your money, or your car, who would you be?

What causes wars, and what causes fightings among you? Is it not your passions that are at war in your members? You desire and do not have; so you kill. And you covet and cannot obtain; so you fight and wage war...Js.4:1

of all, I dreamt that it was the end of the world and I was going to this seaside resort for some reason. I suppose a shelter of some sort. I could see the difficult ways and I saw people went to in hopes of reaching this place. It was a stretch of sand and a woman came on a motor. I saw her before in a car with three other people. I don't Know how she acquired the new vehicle. What had happened to the others? There were also two people sleeping together in a cave of some sort. I was looking out the window and some person said that the ocean (which was right outside) could have been saved up for those who survived the war and the bombs. I went into a room and looked outside a window. I saw Jerry Falwell standing and looking at the girl who was in the cave. A group of bystanders looked on while she was in the cave. She was wearing a nice blue-green crepe dress of mine. She never asked to borrow it. I didn't even know her. Now she was wearing my blue-white dress I had made. I looked in my closet and the crepe dress was there - all wrinkled and dirty. While Jerry Falwell was preaching to her, she was laughing self-consciously and playing with a slinky I think B - was her friend. She was standing next to her. I called J. Falwell to my window and asked if he liked to talk. He agreed and came into my room. I was starting to ask him some questions and then my father came in. He seemed disapproving. He said that Falwell supported the Ku Klux Klan and that Falwell was wrong. I said that I just wanted to know more about Falwell's policies, and I wouldn't necessarily condone them. I also stated I very much opposed the church. I saw a girl I knew. I remembered David saying that they needed clothes. I looked at myself and I found that I didn't match. I thought I should go home and change. I saw Falwell entering the back of the church with his spotless expensive suit welcoming everyone with a loud voice. Then I took those two people to a thrift shop to acquire some apparel. The girl picked a Paisley skirt for 35¢ and David got some pants. END the KKK especially since I would be discriminated against. My father left and we talked a little bit more. But the conversation was not long enough. He had to go to church and prepare himself. I went home to go to church also. I dressed quickly. I found myself going to Falwell's house on some forgotten errand. I didn't know it was Falwell who lived there until he popped his head out the window and scared me.

DEAR ABBY: This may seem trivial, but it may break up my marriage of almost 25 years. It's my wife's hairstyle. A couple of years ago she had her hair cut very short. I told her at the time I thought it was too short and I didn't like it. She told me her friends liked it and I would just have to live with it. After a year and a half, she let it grow, and now she has another hairstyle that makes her look ridiculous. It's so bizarre, it actually reduces my otherwise healthy sexual interest in her. I find it difficult to look at her and don't even want to be seen with her! What bothers me most is that she is so insensitive to my feelings. I need a solution—short of taking a walk. STUMPED IN EVANSTON

DEAR STUMPED: The central issue here is more than a hairstyle. Why should your wife's hairstyle be so all-important to you? And why should she insist on a hairstyle her husband finds so unappealing? You both need to see a counselor and let your hair down.
